SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

To the School Board of Brentwood :

I herewith submit my ninth annual report as superintendent of the Brentwood schools. This will deal with the following topics :

1. Enrollment and statistical tables.
2. The teachers.
3. The physical plant.
4. Recommendations.

The total enrollment of 100 pupils for the school year which ended last June was the largest since June 1921, it entailed, in at least one school, a considerable problem in seating. The reason for the large enrollment was a temporary one, however; the current year, to this date, has brought us 73. The statistical tables which follow show in a concrete way many of the facts relative to the schools of last year and offer a chance for comparison with previous years.

We learn from Table I that in the year ending June 30, 1928, we had 36 full weeks of school, or, to say it in other words, 180 actual days of schooling. The second column of this table shows at a glance the number of school days in each of the last ten years and clearly tells us that we have made a real addition to the school year. This was done easily and without friction; in two of the schools at least, the closing day came earlier than ordinarily. It is to be hoped that there may be no reduction in the number of school days in the future.

Table VI shows Brentwood's accomplishment as compared to that of similar towns in this Supervisory Union in the matters of attendance and total number of days of school. It will be noted that Brentwood not only exceeded her neighbors in number of days but obtained a better percentage of attendance and at a lower teacher cost.

Table II shows us that the Crawley's Falls school had the best percent of attendance in the town; I might add that it exceeded, in percentage of attendance, any of the other schools in this Union except those of Exeter.

The usual number of boys and girls went on to high school at the beginning of the current year and there are eleven children now in the first grade, to fill up the ranks. The conditions of health, weather, and roads all contributed to the good results found in the schools in June.

Tables VII and VIII show Brentwood's expenditure per $1000 of equalized valuation for the past few years. These tables, together with the last column of Table I, show, of course, that the cost of the schools as a whole is greater than that of several years ago, but the Honor Roll in Table III and the statistics with reference to attendance in Table II, together with the results of our tests and other ways of evaluating the schools, give us reliable evidence of much improvement. The local schools actually cost less per $1,000 of equalized valuation than they have done for several years. On the same basis of valuation state aid was increased last year 44 per cent over the previous year.

Of course the teacher is the most important factor in any school. The best incentive for good attendance and for good progress in school is the attraction which a good teacher has for her pupils. No other school plan or policy will take the place of this requisite. You are to be congratulated, then, on your decision to engage only teachers who have been technically and professionally trained in normal schools. Four new teachers are at work this year in our four schools. Two of them have had some experience and two of them have had no experience, though all of them have had normal school training. Up to the present time, a visitor seeking to find exactly the status and condition of our schools would hardly know that new teachers are there. The work of the schools is fully up to any thing that the schools have ever done and in some respects the spirit and work of the schools have been very greatly changed for the better. This step is, I think, the most important one taken by you in the last ten years and the benefits of it will appear at an increasing rate as time goes on.

Your plans for remodeling of the South Road school so as to secure adequate sanitary arrangements, and for the repairs on the interior of the Crawley's Falls school so as to secure better lighting, have been admirably carried out. When the work is completed by the proper re-arrangement of seats, these schools will serve as models in the matters of lighting, heating, and ventilation. To complete the work fully, the re-arrangement of seats which I have mentioned should be made and the South Road schoolhouse should be painted on the outside.

I believe the next step in improving the physical equipment of our schools should be toward more sanitary toilets in the Marshall's Corner school. Six or eight years ago, two cement vaults were placed under the shed but only as a temporary measure. The outhouse was even then out of repair and improperly placed, to say nothing of its inadequate provision of room for wood. More space for wood is needed as badly now, of course, but a greater need is a thorough reconstruction or repair of the toilets. One of them is in a serious and menacing condition, so far as sanitation is concerned. The vaults themselves are in good condition, but the interior of the toilets, or at least one of them, is very far below standard and below what good health and sanitation demand. It may be that a removal of the interior woodwork and replacement by new woodwork would answer the demands but certainly something should be done at once. The South Road schoolhouse should be painted and the fence should be thoroughly repaired or entirely renewed; it is now in bad condition. The fence at the Marshall's Corner school also should be put into thoroughly good condition. The desks in both the North Road school and the South Road school are very badly cut and marred, making a writing surface which is now almost useless. They have had long years of the hardest kind of use. It would make for the comfort and good progress of our children if these could all be removed and the proper number of new single desks substituted for them. With the present enrollment, that work at the South Road school would cost about $130, and at the North Road school about $220. The desks at Marshall's Corner have almost as few marks upon them as when they were installed. If cutting and markings are indications of idle minds, and I think they are, we have had very few idle minds at the Marshall's Corner school. The desks in the Crawley's Falls school are in nearly as good condition.

Your interest, and that of the citizens of the town, in the schools is constantly felt and very much appreciated.

Respectfully submitted,
CLIFTON A. TOWLE,
Superintendent of Supervisory
Union No. 16.

Exeter, N. H., January 31, 1929.
